Item no.: HILLIARD.W01.CS-000085913
Date/Place taken: 1963 : Ernabella, S.A.
Title: [View of title 'Australia Twice Traversed' with an image of the author Ernest Giles - European explorer of Western Australia]
Photographer/Artist: [Hilliard, Winifred]
Access: Conditions apply
Notes: Australia Twice Traversed' published London 1889.
Although Giles made no major discoveries, he is among the more interesting Australian explorers by virtue of his journals which, although overwritten, display a fine descriptive ability and constitute a record of inner experience as well as outward observation. His culture, perception and imagination were no less marked than his skill and determination.

Notes: [Ngintaka (Nin-taka) man or Perentie man creation songline is the major creation story in the Angatja area. The story is about theft, vengeance and uselessness of possessions - Perentie man having no grindstone, steals a grindstone to make his seedcakes better. It is a story with dance (Inma Ngintaka) - a journey dance of creation that includes a song whose stanzas follow his travels through the land so the 500 kilometre trail is called a Songline. Largest monitor goanna in Australia found in the APY Lands. This region who promoted education for both Indigenous and non Indigenous children. For 15 years Standley also oversaw the care and welfare of Indigenous children that had been seperated from their families. Delaying her retirement in order to move with the seperated children as to continue their care, Standley lived in a tent in Alice Springs during the summer of 1929. Ida Standley was awarded, for her service to the Alice Springs community, the MBE Member of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire] dingo pelts. In 1939 the Brown family were warned by the Kaltjiti people that their underground bedroom was at risk of caving in during a wet conditions, warning was ignored and the tragedy resulted. Punipuni, a Kaltjiti woman, ran from Shirley Well across a flooded plain of 30 miles to Ernabella to get help. By the time help came the Kaltjiti people had dug out Mr and Mrs Brown and their four year old son of whom was the only survivor]

Photographer/Artist: [Hilliard, Winifred]
Access: Conditions apply
Notes: [Also known as Ntaria. Una Teague and Jessie Trail visited Hermannsburg in 1932 and reported back to Violet in Melbourne about the deadly drought at the Lutheran Mission. Being internationally acclaimed artists and advocates for Indigenous people the world over, it was time the sisters turned their attention to assisting Indigenous people in Australia. The sisters then planned a road trip and that's the story of how they became advocates and fundraisers for the Kaporilya pipeline project to get water from the Kaporilya underground springs to the Hermannsburg Mission. The sisters raised over two thousand pounds. The sisters hired a Studebaker car as well as a 19 year old taxi driver from a Frankston firm and set out, camping all the way. Jose Petrick Alice Springs historian said that during the drought 85% of babies perished and many of the adults suffered scurvy and other skin diseases because their food sources had dried up as well as the water. During their stay, Albert Namatjira was their camel driver, cook and guide. Violet returned to Melbourne displayed her paintings of Hermannsburg in an exhibition also asked local Melbourne artist to donate a painting each to be sold to raise money and awareness for the pipeline project. Needing three thousand pounds total Violet asked the Argus Newspaper in Melbourne and the Adelaide Advertiser to run an appeal to raise funds and they had an overwhelming response. Pipeline was commenced December 1934 and completed September 1935]
