Welcome

Craig Ritchie, CEO AIATSIS

The 2022 AIATSIS Summit is convened in partnership with Queensland South Native Title Services and hosted by the Kabi Kabi peoples on their traditional Country on the Sunshine Coast, Queensland.

We thank the Kabi Kabi peoples for opening their arms to us and working with us to produce this event. Over five days, with delegates from around the country, the Summit is one of Australia's largest regular gatherings of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. Together – as academics, native title stakeholders, legal experts, community and cultural leaders, and government representatives – we will collaborate in addressing current and future challenges.

This year's theme, Navigating the spaces in between, foregrounds the brilliance and value of Indigenous ways of knowing and seeing the world – exploring how we belong, identify, connect, interact and become.

Pele Ware, Chairperson QSNTS

As Chairperson of Queensland South Native Title Services, co-conveners in partnership with AIATSIS, we welcome you to the 2022 AIATSIS Summit here on the beautiful country of the Kabi Kabi people our host. We thank you all on what will be a successful week of excellence, knowing, seeing and being in the world in which we live, as the theme takes us through Navigating the spaces in between.

MORNING TEA

The Summit's final day, Friday 3 June, will mark 30 years since the 1992 Mabo decision by the High Court of Australia.

As successor to the AIATSIS Native Title Conference first held in 2001, the 2022 AIATSIS Summit is proud to commemorate that history.
