BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Alfred 'Alf' George Stafford, Gamilaroi and Darug man, Prime Ministerial driver to 11 Australian Prime Ministers, cabinet officer for Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies and accomplished ACT sporting personality was born in Binnaway, New South Wales, on 29 April 1906, the son of John Allen Stafford and Mary Ann Blackman.

He worked as a grocer in Binnaway after leaving school and then joined the Royal Australian Artillery in Sydney, where he was attached to the 1st Field Battery and from which he was discharged on medical grounds in 1929. He arrived in Canberra in 1930, where he gained employment at retail department store JB Young's in Kingston, ACT in 1931. He married Edith Mary Dignam in 1932 and bought a home in New South Wales Crescent, Barton. In 1934, he opened Canberra's first Billiard Hall in Kingston whilst continuing to work at JB Young's, and in 1937 joined the Commonwealth Transport Department as one of its earliest transport officers, meeting the need of "an expanding government that was building up a collection of official cars and much-needed trucks" (ref 1). In this role he became Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies' personal driver for 17 years and in 1949 his cabinet officer and close personal friend.

Alf was the personal driver to 11 Prime Ministers of Australia including: Joseph Lyons (United Australia), Sir Earle Page (Country), Arthur Fadden (Country), John Curtin (Labor), Francis Forde (Labor), Joseph Chifley (Labor), Robert Menzies (United Australia), Harold Holt (Liberal), John McEwen (Country), John Gorton (Liberal) and Gough Whitlam (Labor).

After the death of his first wife Edith Mary in 1954 he married Heather Nesbitt (Dame Patty Menzies' housekeeper) on 27 November 1956. The wedding reception was held at the Lodge and on numerous occasions the family looked after (house sat) the Lodge.

Alfred George Stafford was made a Member of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (MBE) in the 1972 Queen's Birthday Honours List for his services to a number of Prime Ministers.

Alf was a keen and accomplished sportsman who holds the honour of batting the first ever cricket ball bowled at the Manuka Oval (April 1934) and playing alongside Sir Don Bradman for St George. During the 1930s he captained the Kingston and Manuka Cricket teams and the ACT Cricket representative side for 7 years. Descriptions relating to his cricketing skills include: "he was a good all rounder" (Cricket and Cricketers, jottings among the clubs 1930, p. 2), "Stafford was hitting with zest and although the fieldsmen saved many runs, he frequently guided the ball through the gaps" (Sheffield Shield Team's Visit 1935, p. 4).

He was a passionate fisherman who often featured in newspaper articles documenting his successful catches of yellowbelly, black perch and trout in the many lakes of the Canberra region.

Alf was a foundation member of the Canberra Racing Club in 1946 and served as a committee member until 1975, the same year he was made a life member of the club. He worked as a race judge for 20 years. He was involved in a number of controversial decisions in this role and vindicated on every occasion for his decisions. He has a number of races named after him including the Alf Stafford Guineas. He officiated at the opening of the Acton Stand on the anniversary of the ACT Racing Club on the 4th of August 1990.

Alf took pride in his Aboriginality in an understated manner that involved the divulgence of this knowledge to family and the taking of a keen interest in family history. He was often heard to say: "ahhh...that's the Aboriginal in me coming out!".

He died in 1996.
