Cultural Sensitivity Statement

Use of the material

When using this finding aid, and the collection described within it, clients are encouraged to be mindful and sensitive to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, particularly with regard to the use of this material. This includes:

Language

This finding aid and collection may contain words and descriptions which may be culturally inappropriate and insensitive. The language used in this collection may not normally be used in certain public or community contexts. Clients may encounter terms and descriptions, which reflect the author's attitude or that of the period in which the materials were created, that may be considered inappropriate today.

Deceased persons

Clients using this finding aid should be aware that in some Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities, hearing recordings, seeing images or the names of deceased persons may cause sadness or distress and in some cases, offend against strongly held cultural beliefs.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Content

This finding aid includes Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, family or organisations, Community (individuals or groups who have contributed to, performed in, or are mentioned within this collection), language and Country that are associated with this collection.

Knowledge holders, Community, language, and Country are all recorded against the individual collections/items in which they appear.

Please note that there may be additional Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people or groups that are not included in this Finding Aid, as they have not yet been identified. If you can provide further information to AIATSIS regarding this please contact us at collectionenquiry@aiatsis.gov.au or telephone +61 2 6246 1182.

Collections Overview

Scope and contents note

This finding aid is a composite overview of AIATSIS' Society of Catholic Apostolate audio and moving image collections, organized according to language by AIATSIS staff.

Generally, each distinct language forms a separate collection, though some collections include more than one language. The names of the Indigenous people presented within the content of the collections are included in the description.

There are 15 audio and moving image collections listed, and each has a catalogue record. The majority of the collection is made up of audiocassettes. Material in formats other than audiocassettes have been noted against the description of individual collections and items where applicable.

Audio recordings include: language teaching/learning; language elicitation; vocabulary and grammar; songs and stories in Indigenous languages; Church sermons, masses (including children's masses), and prayers in Indigenous languages; Bible translations; songs, stories and hymns in English; lectures and speeches in English; oral history interviews.

Moving image materials include; a communal wedding ceremony at Balgo Hills Mission Church; footage from Tardun (school).

Most of the audio material described here was recorded by Father Kevin McKelson.

Provenance

The collection from which the audio and audiovisual components described here was derived (AIAS033.300817) was donated to the AIATSIS Collection by Father Eugene San, Pallottines Regional Leader, on 22 July 2017.

Material separated from the collection

In addition to the audiovisual materials described in this finding aid, the originating collection (AIAS033.300817) includes manuscript, photographic, and art & object materials.

Administrative/biographical history note

Society of the Catholic Apostolate

The Society of the Catholic Apostolate (SAC) is an Australian community of priests and brothers, part of the worldwide organisation The Union of Catholic Apostolate (UAC). SAC is more commonly known as the Pallottines, named after their founder, the Italian Saint Vincent Pallotti (1795–1850). The Pallottine priests and brothers came to Australia from Germany in 1901 to take over the Trappist missions to the Aboriginal people of Beagle Bay Mission in the Kimberly region of Western Australia.

Since then, the focus of the Pallottines' activities in Australia has been the operation of missions, primarily in the Kimberley, along with other facilities for Aboriginal people such as the Pallottine Centre in Perth (housing Aboriginal students). Several of the priests and lay missionaries undertook linguistic and anthropological research with the communities in which they were based.

Over the past forty years, many Pallottines missions and other facilities for Indigenous people have been closed or had their ownership transferred to Community bodies. Records from these operations have been transferred to the Pallottine Archives.

Bidyadanga / La Grange Mission

Bidyadanga was officially created by the establishment of La Grange Mission in 1955, although it was settled around 1889 when a telegraph station was built at La Grange Bay. In 1931 the West Australian government set aside approximately 180 ha of land near a traditional meeting ground for a reserve and ration depot for Indigenous people which was taken over and managed by the Pallottines as a Catholic mission from 1955. It was intended to train and employ Aboriginal youth and adults on a self-sustaining station. Control of the Mission was taken over by Bidyadanga Aboriginal Community Inc. in 1984.

Tardun

Construction of the Pallottine Mission School, Tardun, a boarding school for Aboriginal children, began in 1946 and the school was opened in 1948. A hostel was established in 1960 as dormitory style accommodation for boys and girls who attended the mission school. During the 1960s, the hostel was rebuilt into house style accommodation, with each house having its own 'house parents.' The Primary School changed its name four times, from Pallottine Mission School in 1948, to Tardun Government Primary School in 1961, Tardun Catholic Primary School in 1990, and then to Wandalgu Catholic Primary School in 1994. The Pallottine Mission Tardun, changed its name to the Wandalgu Hostel in 1995 and closed in December 2004.

Biographical note

Father Kevin McKelson

Kevin Bartholomew McKelson was born in Melbourne, Victoria in 1926 and was ordained as a priest into the religious Order of the Society of Catholic Apostolate (Pallottines) on 2 July 1950. In July 1954 he arrived in the Kimberley region of Western Australia where he worked in the Broome Parish until 1961. With the exception of one year spent at Beagle Bay, Fr McKelson was based at the La Grange Mission (Bidyadanga), 150 km south of Broome from 1961 to 1991. During that time he studied the Kimberley language groups, in particular the five languages spoken at La Grange Mission – Nyangumarta [Nyangumarda], Karajarri, Yulparija, Juwaliny and Mangala. Initially McKelson's aim was to teach these languages but government policy did not allow this until the end of his time at La Grange (Bidyadanga). Consequently he contented himself with recording the languages, translating religious texts into community languages, and teaching some students to read and write in them. In 1994 Fr McKelson became Chaplain at the University of Notre Dame, Broome Campus, Western Australia, and he was awarded an Honorary Doctorate of Laws in 2003. In 1995 Fr McKelson was awarded the Medal of the Order of Australia in the General Division for his service to the Aboriginal community. Fr McKelson retired to the Rossmoyne Pallottine House, Western Australia, in 2006. He died in 2011, aged 81.
