ARCHIVIST'S NOTE

The recordings deposited were copies, not originals. Unfortunately the copies do not always match up one to one with the originals. For example, the first cassette is a copy of side A of the first original cassette. Side B of the first original appears on the next copy cassette, which also contains the start of side A of the second original cassette. As there are no announcements, it is not possible to tell with any certainty where one original starts and another ends. Baker's convention for referencing recordings in publications is to use the date followed by the recording number for the day and the side of the tape (A or B) if applicable. We have applied this system in the item in the item list below. Where a copy tape contains more than one original, we have listed both original numbers as the 'field recording number', e.g. '28/5/98:1B & 29/5/98:1'

The recordings from 2000 and 2001 were originally recorded to mini disc. Copies were supplied to AIATSIS on audio CD and cassette. The audio CD copies will be archived as they are slightly better quality than the cassette copies. In some instances two CD copies of one MD was supplied, one divided into tracks and the other not. In such cases only the CD with no tracks (one continuous recording) will be archive, as it seems the original recordings were continuous (as in those which have been divided up, the end of one track is repeated at the beginning of the next). The numbering on the CD and cassettes vary slightly, and it is unclear how the originals were numbered. Therefore, the CD numbering is used in this finding aid.

This finding aid was compiled from information provided by Brett Baker. Detailed item descriptions, featuring timing points, are not yet available as the collection has not been auditioned by AIATSIS staff.
