COLLECTION OVERVIEW

Scope and contents note

This collection contains material created and collected by the operators of the Sky Pilot Fellowship and Marella Mission Farm between 1948 and 1986. Marella's general administration from 1950-1986 was undertaken by its Secretary-Treasurer, Norma Warwick, who created most of the material in this collection. Other material was created by the children housed at Marella, Keith Langford-Smith, and those who wrote to Marella.

The collection covers a broad range of administrative material such as financial administration, personal information of care-leavers, grant and welfare payment applications, health and school records, meeting minutes, employee records, personal papers, published material and newsletters. A large amount of indexed correspondence is also included in this collection, arranged chronologically and indexed by either individual or business names. The card indexes for this correspondence are also part of the collection.

Provenance

The records were deposited with Moore College in 1986, upon the final closure of Marella Mission Farm and Sky Pilot Fellowship Ltd. Moore College donated the records to AIATSIS in 2019.

Material separated from the collection

Bank statements, cheque books and receipt books found in this collection were discarded. The content of those materials has been documented elsewhere in the collection.

Audio materials in Series 16 (Audio tapes of Marella events) are held in the AIATSIS Audio collection with the call number MTC_01. For more information and access to these materials, please consult Mura, the AIATSIS catalogue, or email the Access team.

Archivist's note

This finding aid is compiled from the metadata developed by Moore College and the consignment note, both of which accompanied the delivery of the records to AIATSIS. The finding aid was created by Fiona Blackburn, Angela Schilling and Miriam McBride in October 2019.

The records had been arranged by the Moore College archivist and described at series and item level. Access conditions were also ascribed by Moore College, and have been retained. Series names and descriptions ascribed by Moore College have been retained in the collection's arrangement.

MS 5239 Marella Mission Farm

The original collection number (031) given by Moore College has been retained in the item number, though this does not correspond to AIATSIS' usual manuscript numbering system. An AIATSIS collection number (MS 5239) has also been given to the collection.

File titles are drawn from the consignment note; where a more accurate or descriptive title is warranted, this has been devised by the AIATSIS archivist. Dates provided next to item descriptions were provided by Moore College and refer to the earliest and latest dates found in or on the item.

The files have been rehoused into archival standard enclosures; however the description of the original file is retained in this finding aid, eg 'loose papers in manila folders'. Either a photocopy of the front of the manila folder, or a cut down of the manila folder showing the file title, have been included in the new enclosure.

Item 'Certificate of Particulars of Birth' has been moved from 031/39/1 (Registrar of companies & corporate affairs commission) to 031/6/7 (Admission and related correspondence R-W, 1963-1980). This item is closed access.

ADMINISTRATIVE NOTE

Marella Mission Farm was a 'home' for Aboriginal children and wards of the state, operated as part of The Sky Pilot Fellowship Ltd and located at Kellyville, NSW. Both the Sky Pilot Fellowship and Marella Mission Farm were run by Gwen and Keith Langford-Smith. Before the 'home' was opened, the main activity of The Sky Pilot Fellowship was evangelical radio broadcasts, which had begun in 1948.

On October 7th, 1954, The Sky Pilot Fellowship Ltd. was formed, commencing operation as a not-for-profit company on April 1st 1955. From this date, Marella Mission Farm operated as a 'home' for Aboriginal children and states of the ward. Many of the children who 'lived' at Marella were a part of the Stolen Generation, having been taken from their families by the Aborigine Welfare Board and placed in homes such as Marella. Keith Langford-Smith was permanent Director and member of Council, with his wife Gwen and Secretary-Treasurer Norma Warwick also assisting in tending to the property and children. Warwick, as a long-serving staff member, undertook all administration and recordkeeping, as well as many day-to-day tasks at the Farm. Marella was maintained by fundraising activities, donations and gifts received through The Sky Pilot Fellowship.

Marella held many fundraising 'fetes' which were aimed at the local community. Keith Langford-Smith would give sermons and Marella children were dressed up in 'good clothes' and asked to sell wares and sing for audiences. Marella also received government grants through agencies such as the Department of Social Security, the Aborigine Welfare Board and Youth and Community Services.

Although describing itself as 'non-denominational', Keith Langford-Smith's father was an Anglican Priest and Archdeacon of Cumberland, and Marella still had strong ties with the Anglican Church when it came to communication and fundraising. Langford-Smith was also a former Church Missionary Society missionary at Roper River Mission from 1928; several years later he was suspended after allegations of sexual and financial misconduct.

As a company, the Sky Pilot Fellowship was not exempt from Land Tax and so on April 19th, 1978, Marella Mission Farm Ltd. took over the assets and liabilities of The Sky Pilot Fellowship Ltd. At this time, Marella Mission Farm at Kellyville ceased operating as a foster home, with the children housed at that time being placed in Church of England group homes nearer to Sydney. Marella continued to function as a sponsoring organisation to the Church of England Homes "Marella Project", with a seat on the Marella Management Committee.

In 1978 the Kellyville site was taken over by Parramatta Regional Mission, run by the Uniting Church of Australia, who renamed it Koompatoo Mission Farm. The mission cared for homeless teenage boys, and operated there until 1986. The site was later subdivided. It is bounded by present day York Road, Presidents Avenue, Green Road and Marella Avenue. It contains the Bernie Mullane Sporting Complex and YMCA, Kellyville High School and private residences.
