Title: My country, mine country : Indigenous people, mining and development contestation in remote Australia / Benedict Scambary.
Physical descrip: xiv, 276 p. : maps ; 25 cm
Series: (CAEPR monograph series ; no. 33)
General Note: Includes index
Bibliography note: Bibliography : p. 241-270
Contents Note: Indigenous policy, the mining industry, and Indigenous livelihoods: an introduction -- "Government been mustering me"...historical background -- "They still mustering me" : the three agreements -- The Ranger uranium mine: when opportunity becomes a cost -- "We've got the richest trusts but the poorest people" : The Yandi Land Use Agreement -- "Achieving white dreams whilst being black" : agency and ambivalence at Century mine -- Conclusion
Annotation: This study examines the outcomes of three agreements between Indigenous Australians and the mining industry between 2003 and 2007: The Ranger Uranium Mine agreement, the Yandi Land Use Agreement and the Gulf Communities Agreement; key themes concern concepts of value, identity and community and the tension existing between culture and economics in the Australian Indigenous policy environment; identifies that poor socioeconomic status prevents many Indigenous Australians from engaging in and gaining economic benefits from formal programs associated with mining agreements.

Contents: 1. The discourse of heritage -- 2. Heritage as a cultural process -- 3. Authorizing institutions of heritage -- 4. The 'manored' past : the banality of grandiloquence -- 5. Fellas, fossils and country : the Riversleigh landscape -- 6. Labour heritage : performing and remembering -- 7. The slate wiped clean? : heritage, memory and landscape in Castleford, West Yorkshire, England -- 8. The issue is control' : Indigenous politics and the discourse of heritage. Subject: "Utilizing the latest research, including that from the UK, Australia and the United States, this book re-theorizes the idea of heritage. Smith challenges traditional Western definitions of heritage that focus on material and monumental forms of 'old', or aesthetically pleasing, tangible heritage, which are all too often used to promote an unchallenging consensual view of both the past and the present. An alternative conception of heritage is developed which establishes and develops themes of memory, performance, identity, intangibility, dissonance and place."
"This work confronts the assumptions often found in the study and use of heritage and will be a valuable resource for students and heritage practitioners." annotation pending

Title: Opinion: High Court decision in Waanyi and other recent native title developments / by Michael Hunt Annotation: Discusses the decision by the High Court (published on 21 March 1996) that the National Native Title Tribunal should have accepted the Waanyi claim as it was arguable whether the grant of a pastoral lease extinguished native title; when the High Court hears an appeal regarding the Wik native title claim it will be addressing the question whether the grant of a pastoral lease extinguishes native title; also discusses the latest statistics on the work of the National Native Title Tribunal.

Annotation: Ethnographic analysis of community life within a framework derived from Weberian constructs; Examines aspects of social identity including language, country, and kinship with a view to establishing the extent to which each of these generates corporate groups; Examines also the manner in which knowledge of language and country contributions to status, the association between linguistic affiliation and territorial affiliation and contemporary traditional conceptions of country including environment, totemic; significance, subsection/semimoiety affiliation and estates; Differentiates these tradition-based aspects of social life from those deriving primarily from colonisation; Treats race relations in this context as a study of domination, considering specifically class situation and economic power, the operation of the State and its law, social closure as a means of effecting autonomy and the operation of factions, against; a background of the legitimating force of religious ideology; Considers also the situation of Aborigines of mixed descent within the Mission community; Extensive representations and analysis of the relationship between the white Mission management, the Aboriginal council and the community at large; Includes regional history according to the way it is structurally conceived by Aborigines
