Senior Research Officer, Indigenous Country and Governance

APS Level 6

Non-Ongoing Full-time for a period of 12 months

$77,912 to $88,620 pa

This is an Affirmative Measures opportunity open to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people only

About the Program Area

AIATSIS is at the forefront of research lead by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, who are involved as researchers, partners and drivers of our research priorities and projects. Within the Research and Education Group, we lead by example in conducting and funding research to the highest ethical standards and we have a genuine commitment to building pathways for knowledge exchange.

The Indigenous Country and Governance (ICG) Program sits within the Research and Education Group. The ICG team produces, shares and supports leading edge research and products in the fields of native title, Traditional Ownership, Indigenous governance, and caring for country including land, sea and water. The team works closely to enable an effective and influential evidence base to inform policy, practice and decision-making in the context of native title, Indigenous land management, self-determination and knowledge transfer.

About the Role

We are seeking a high performing and talented Senior Research Officer in the ICG team.

Key responsibilities include:

- support the work of the ICG including around Native Title, Traditional Ownership, Indigenous governance, and caring for country including land, sea and water
- perform project management tasks to contribute to the success of program activities and the work of the Native Title Research Unit
- provide quality advice to a diverse range of stakeholders in the native title sector in including writing and other forms of communication
- contribute to reporting of project progress and results
- minute-taking and other secretariat duties
- administrative tasks and other duties as required.

This position will be filled using the Affirmative Measure provision, which allows for the targeted recruitment of Indigenous Australians into the Australian Public Service. The vacancy is only open to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people. The filling of this employment opportunity is intended to constitute an Affirmative Measure under section 8(1) of the Racial Discrimination Act 1975.

Our ideal candidate

Our ideal candidate will have:

- project management experience across all key stages of project delivery
- ability to build productive relationships with a diverse range of existing stakeholders and actively seek to maintain positive relationships

- experience in operating in a high-pressure diverse environment, involving face to face, phone, and written communication
- demonstrated capability of achieving required outcomes within tight delivery timelines
- proven negotiation and strong analytical skills, with creative problem-solving abilities including well developed judgment, initiative, and decision-making skills
- a willingness to learn, is adaptable to change and new ways of working
- a strong understanding of native title practice and a relevant degree and/or demonstrated relevant experience and skills in native title.

Cultural Capability

All roles at AIATSIS require a high level of cultural capability and critical self-reflexivity that includes:

- an understanding of the AIATSIS vision to create a world in which Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people's knowledge and cultures are recognised, respected, celebrated and valued
- an informed, authentic and respectful understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and societies, including ethical research and policy matters related to the lives of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people
- the capability to incorporate Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples' voices, experiences and perspectives in all of our work.

What we offer

Opportunities for further education, professional development and study assistance will be available. You can also expect personal development activities and to work in a supportive learning environment.

We understand that you will work best when you have a healthy work-life balance and can attend to your family commitments. We offer flexible working conditions, competitive leave entitlements and health and wellbeing programs.

How to apply

If this sounds like the career opportunity you are looking for, we want to hear from you.

Send your completed application to recruitment@aiatsis.gov.au by 11:59pm on Tuesday 31 January 2023

- Referring to 'Our Ideal Candidate', provide a succinct summary (no more than 1,550 words) outlining your skills, knowledge and experience demonstrating why you should be considered for this role.
- Complete the enclosed application form.

- Attach your resume, covering your personal details, education and qualifications, work and other relevant experience.

What should I include in my supporting statement?

Your application should be brief and align to the requirements specified in the vacancy information published on our website. Generally, we do not use selection criteria for applications unless they are specific technical requirements.

How will my application be assessed?

You will be assessed on your resume and your response to 'Our Ideal Candidate'. Your response should be succinct and demonstrate your ability to meet the requirements of the job and should complement your resume. Your resume should be comprehensive enough to show that you have the experience and/or qualifications to undertake the duties and responsibilities of the job. Because this is an Affirmative Measures and Identified position your resume should include your knowledge of and experience with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander cultures, issues, communities and engagement.

If you need assistance developing your response you may want to refer to the applying for jobs on the Australian Public Service Commission website:

<http://www.apsc.gov.au/working-in-the-aps/applying-for-jobs-in-the-aps>

A selection decision may be based solely on your written application and referee reports, and it is the quality, rather than the quantity of your written submissions that is the most critical factor.

Your cultural competency will carry more weight than other factors in the assessment. These requirements are based on the information provided to you as part of the job opportunity.

Who we are

We are Australia's only national institution focused exclusively on the diverse history, cultures, and heritage of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Australia. We house the world's most important and extensive collection of cultural information and material and we provide leadership, publish and promote greater understanding and appreciation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. We create opportunities for people the world over to engage with and be transformed by the knowledge, the culture and the story of Australia's Indigenous peoples. We are Australia's national institution for leadership in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander research.

What we do

We care for a priceless collection, including films, photographs, video and audio recordings as well as the world's largest collection of printed and other resource materials for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander studies. We undertake and encourage scholarly, ethical, community-based research in a variety of sectors, including health, native title, languages and education. Our publishing house, Aboriginal Studies Press, regularly publishes outstanding writing that promotes Australian Indigenous cultures. Our activities affirm and raise awareness of the richness and diversity of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and histories.

Our functions are established under the Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies Act 1989.

These functions are to:

- provide access to a national collection of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and heritage;
- use that national collection to strengthen and promote knowledge and understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and heritage;
- provide leadership in the fields of:
  - Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander research; and
  - activities relating to collections associated with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples; and use (including use for research) of that national collection and other collections containing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and heritage;
- lead and promote collaborations and partnerships among the academic, research, non-government, business and government sectors and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in support of the other functions of the Institute;
- provide advice to the Commonwealth on the situation and status of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and heritage.

We are an Australian Government statutory authority. The Minister responsible for AIATSIS is the Hon Linda Burney MP, Minister for Indigenous Australians, and AIATSIS sits within the portfolio of the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet.

FAQ

What are Affirmative Measures?

The Australian Public Service (APS) advertises some jobs as Affirmative Measures and/or Identified positions. The two classifications are similar but serve different purposes. We are advertising an Affirmative Measures process to fill this vacancy.

Affirmative Measures positions

Jobs in the APS are open to all Australian citizens. There are some jobs, though, that are open only to specific members of the Australian population. This practice is known as an Affirmative measure, and is a targeted strategy to ensure the diversity of the APS workforce reflects the diversity of the Australian population.

Any job can be restricted to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people only, and it does not necessarily have to involve working on Indigenous issues. If a position has been advertised as an Affirmative measure, it will be clearly marked as such.<sup>1</sup>

The use of the Indigenous Affirmative Measures provision at AIATSIS allows for targeted recruitment of Indigenous Australians into the organisation. If you are applying for an Affirmative Measures position, you will need to indicate your Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander heritage on our application form and provide confirmation if required.

What is Cultural Capability?

Every part of how we work, who we work with and for, requires varying levels of knowledge of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures, protocols and an understanding of issues that enable effective communication and ultimately effective performance in the role. To assist you in determining the required cultural capabilities of this role, you can refer to the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Cultural Capability Framework.
