Preface and Acknowledgments vi
Introduction 1

Part 1 29
1. Problematising ‘the Native’ 31
2. The measurement of people 49
3. Help us to convince governments of our value 62

Part 2 77
4. Researchers will not ‘cause difficulties in the field or after’ 81
5. Mr Neville did all in his power to assist 93
6. A deep-seated aversion or a prudish disapproval? 115
7. Preserving Aborigines? 128
8. It is not possible for conditions to remain as they are 147

Part 3 171
9. Managing the impact of war 173
10. There is no point sniping at the government 203
Afterword 217

Appendix 228
Abbreviations 231
Notes 232
Bibliography 250
Index 273