CONTENTS

Preface ix
Acknowledgments xi

Introduction 1
  The law before Mabo 2
  The legislative responses 3
  The Native Title Act 1993 5
  Wik and the Ten-Point Plan 6
  Relationship between the common law and the legislation 7

1. Recognising native title in Australian law: 9
   Mabo v Queensland [No. 2]
   The consequences of settlement 10
   Establishing title 10
   The nature and content of native title 14
   Extinguishing title 16
   Wrongful extinguishment 18
   Conclusion 21

2. Coexistence and necessary inconsistency: 22
   Wik Peoples v Queensland
   Nature of the inquiry 23
   History of pastoral leases under statute 24
   Applying the rules of statutory construction 25
   The arguments in favour of exclusive possession 26
   Arguments against exclusive possession 29
   The conditional nature of the grant 30
   A presumption of beneficial construction 31
   Conclusions as to necessary extinguishment 31
   Extinguishment and the test of inconsistency 33
3. The vulnerability of native title: Fejo v Northern Territory
   - The freehold question
   - A ‘bundle of rights’
   - A unique title
   - A new vulnerability
   - Revival and extinguishment
   - Conclusion

4. Property and Crown ownership: Yanner v Eaton
   - The nature of property
   - ‘Vesting’ and Crown property
   - Extinguishment, inconsistency and regulation
   - Conclusion

5. Native title offshore: Commonwealth v Yarmirr
   - Recognition of native title over the sea
   - Crown sovereignty over the sea
   - The public rights to navigate and to fish
   - Non-exclusivity and enforcement
   - Conclusion

6. Redefining extinguishment: Western Australia v Ward
   - Extinguishment under the Native Title Act 1993
   - The Racial Discrimination Act and compensation
   - Proof of native title
   - The ‘bundle of rights’ debate
   - Connection to land
   - Non-exclusive native title
   - Principles for extinguishment under the Native Title Act
   - Partial extinguishment and coexistence
   - The Wilson v Anderson decision
   - Conclusion

7. Proof of a native title society: Yorta Yorta v Victoria
   - Tradition and continuity in Yorta Yorta
   - The intersection of normative systems
   - What has to be proved
   - Continuity and change in tradition
   - Conclusion

8. Rules of interpretation:
Griffiths v Minister for Lands, Planning and Environment
- The statutory framework
- Public purpose and private benefit
- The absence of clear and plain intent
- Conclusion

9. Implementing the High Court’s jurisprudence:
De Rose v South Australia [No. 2]
- Connection to land
- Social and political life
- Physical access
- The evidence of Indigenous witnesses and the role of experts
- Alternative determination and extinguishment
- The Federal Court appeal
- Who can claim native title?
- Determining the impact of partial extinguishment

10. Continuity and change: Bodney v Bennell
- The existence of a Noongar society
- The continuity question
- The appeal
- Continuity and ‘unacceptable’ change
- ‘For each generation’
- Communal title and the recognition level
- Connection
- Conclusion

11. The development of native title jurisprudence

12. The jurisprudence of native title:
- ‘Recognition’ and ‘protection’
  - Native title and the assertion of Crown sovereignty
  - Non-recognition
  - The juxtaposition of recognition and denial
  - What is recognised: the nature and extent of the title
  - Sustaining recognition: the maintenance of connection
  - The ‘recognition level’: who holds native title?
  - The limits of protection: extinguishment of native title
  - Conclusion

Notes
Annotated case list
Bibliography
Index