

Nyimili

Frida Blom

Marlon Cooke

Stuart Ingie Jr.

Tom Kimber

An Introduction

A Brief Orientation

Underlying Principles

Objects and Stories

Protecting Places

Limitations - Opportunities

Concluding Thoughts

A landscape photograph of a valley with red rock cliffs and a large, gnarled tree in the foreground. The tree has a thick, twisted trunk and branches, and is surrounded by green foliage. The valley below is filled with green trees and shrubs, and the sky is blue with some white clouds.

Thanks to

Yinhawangka Aboriginal Corporation

Yinhawangka Trust

Terra Rosa Consulting

Claire Leach – Director of Photography

2016 National Native Title Conference